DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1 – 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Guidotti et al. (US 6,835,192).

With reference to claim 1, Guidotti et al. (hereinafter "Guidotti") discloses an absorbent article including a first sheet leak preventer (9), a second sheet leak preventer (6) present above and in a rear part of the first leak preventer, and an absorbent (3) containing a super absorbent polymer (col. 6, lines 13 – 17) capable of absorbing a body fluid, and provided above the first leak preventer extending from a front part of the first leak preventer beneath the second leak preventer in at least one layer as set forth in figure 5 .

With reference to claim 2, Guidotti discloses an absorbent article in which a urine introduction part forming member (1) is bonded to a part of a lower surface of a front end of the second leak preventer as set forth in figure 5.

As to claim 3, Guidotti discloses an absorbent article further including a urine/feces stopping member (10) in a front end or in a vicinity of the front end of the second leak preventer as set forth in figures 3 – 5.

With reference to claim 4, Guidotti discloses an absorbent article in which the absorber is separated and provided on right and left sides in a front part of the first leak preventer as set forth in figure 3.

With respect to claim 5, Guidotti discloses an absorbent article in which the absorber is separated and provided on right and left sides in a rear part of the first leak preventer as set forth in figure 3.

As to claims 6 and 7, Guidotti discloses an absorbent article in which a part or entire periphery of the first leak preventer rises upward and/or in which the right and left side walls of the first leak preventer are folded inward as set forth in figures 1 – 2.

As to claim 8, Guidotti discloses an absorbent article which right and left side walls of the first leak preventer are formed into folded shape as set forth in figures 1 – 2.

Regarding claim 9, Guidotti discloses an absorbent article in which the absorber is provided in each of at least two of two or more stepped-spaces defined by the right and left side walls of the first leak preventer formed into folded shape as set forth in figures 1 – 3.

With respect to claim 10, Guidotti discloses an absorbent article in which a part or entire periphery of the second leak preventer rises upward as set forth in figures 1 – 2.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed January 29, 2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Art Unit: 3761

With respect to the applicant's argument that figure 5 of Guidotti must be considered with the lower side of figure 5 corresponding with the upper side of the presently claimed invention, the examiner maintains the current rejection.

If figure 5 of Guidotti is turned upside down, reference character 9 is still considered as the first leak preventer and reference character 6 is still considered as the second leak preventer. The absorbent 3 is disposed above the first leak preventer and the second leak preventer is above the first leak preventer in an area considered as the rear portion.

In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., routes of urine) are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL.

See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
